

Acceptable Use Policy

Nexus ISP makes no effort to edit, control, monitor or restrict the content of data other than as necessary to provide such services or as required under regulatory or lawful enforcement. The Acceptable Use Policy (AUP) is designed to assist in protecting the Nexus ISP network, its services, users and the internet community as a whole from improper and/or illegal activity over the internet. Nexus ISP, at its sole discretion may immediately terminate any service agreement if it is found that the Client is in breach of this AUP.

1. Client Content

Client agrees that it will not distribute, electronically transmit or display any materials supplied by Client or through Client by a third party on any Nexus ISP Service which may:

- 1.1 violate any domestic or foreign laws or regulations;
- 1.2 infringe on any intellectual property rights (including but not limited to, copyright, trademark, patent or other proprietary rights) of Nexus ISP or any third party;
- 1.3 are defamatory, slanderous or trade libelous;
- 1.4 are threatening or harassing;
- 1.5 are discriminatory based on gender, race, age or promotes hate;
- 1.6 violate the terms and conditions as set out in this Agreement or any other agreement between Client and Nexus ISP;
- 1.7 contain viruses or other computer programming defects which result in damage to Nexus ISP or any third party.

2. Transmission of Unsolicited Electronic Mail

Client shall not use the Services for the transmission of unsolicited electronic mail, chain letters, junk mail or any use of distribution lists to any person who has not given express permission to be included in such list ("spam"). Client shall not engage in the transmission of electronic mail or other forms of communication while using the Services, or otherwise, that makes mention of or reference to any domain hosted on the Nexus ISP network or registered by Nexus ISP without the express permission of Nexus ISP.

Nexus ISP reserves the right to intercept and/or block any incoming or outgoing electronic mail sent to or from the Nexus ISP network or through the use of any Services provided by Nexus ISP to Client should such electronic mail be identified as possible spam or be in contravention of these Standard Terms and Conditions of Service. Nexus ISP further reserves the right to terminate any and all Services or limit portions thereof provided to Client should it be determined that Client has engaged in the transmission of spam, whether done so knowingly or otherwise.

Where it is determined by Nexus ISP or its upstream providers that Client is engaging in the transmission of spam through the use of the Service, Nexus ISP or its upstream providers can without notice enforce a block to all outbound transmission of electronic email traffic, thus preventing Client from sending any electronic mail to any network whilst using the Service. Client is required to investigate and immediately take the necessary actions to stop further transmission of spam. Client will be required to provide Nexus ISP with a full and clear explanation as to what preventative measures Client has implemented to ensure no repeat offenses occur after which at the discretion of Nexus ISP and its upstream providers, the blocking of this traffic shall be lifted from the Service.

For more information on spam Client is encouraged to consult the Electronic Communications and Transmissions Act.

3. Upstream Providers Acceptable Use Policies

Nexus ISP makes use of upstream providers to provide Services, some of these upstream providers employ separate Acceptable Use Policies of their own which are made available on the Nexus ISP
